

Lansing Lawmakers Set For Showdown In Budget Slashing

LANSING — (AP) — Legislative budget slayers face their first showdown in the House and Senate this week.

By midweek the appropriations committees hope to have drafted and buttressed a formula which will avoid the necessity of mass layoffs of state employees and yet hold the line against a 14 per cent average pay raise granted by the Civil Service Commission.

Congress Tests Economy Drive

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON — (AP) — A new Republican economy drive and President Truman's Internal Revenue Reorganization plan get crucial tests this week in Congress.

The reorganization plan is designed to take revenue collectors off the patronage rolls and put them under civil service. It has been approved by the House and, unless the Senate rejects it, will become operative after midnight next Friday.

The plan is due to be voted on Wednesday in the Senate, which has a more personal interest than does the House since revenue collectors require Senate confirmation.

The new budget-cutting drive faces a test in the House Wednesday. Republicans hope to chop a flat 20 per cent from a 990 million dollar supplemental appropriation bill. Their success or failure may shape the pattern of Congressional action on a dozen big budget bills to be considered in the next few months.

On the basis of past performance the supplemental bill probably will not be cut anything near 20 per cent. The only money bill passed this year by the House was pared 2 per cent.

Husband Kills Wife
With Jack Handle;
Crashes In Flight

DETROIT — (AP) — Minutes after a 40-year-old woman was beaten to death with a jack handle in a parking lot today, her estranged husband was critically injured in a head-on automobile collision. Police said he was fleeing the slaying scene.

Killed was Mrs. Juanita Beardsley, 30.

Her husband, Daniel, 36, was taken to a hospital and ordered held under a charge of murder.

Edward Baisela, 44, with whose automobile Beardsley's collided, also was critically hurt and taken to the same hospital.

Mrs. Beardsley was struck down as she left a restaurant where she worked as a waitress. Another waitress, Mrs. Rose Lancioni, witnessed the slaying.

Church Burned

HILLSDALE, Mich. — (AP) — Fire destroyed the Congregational church at nearby Prattville Sunday. Fire departments from three communities fought in vain to save the 78-year-old frame building.

Week End Fires Take Two Lives

(By The Associated Press)

Fire claimed two lives, burned a hotel and two airplanes, destroyed four stores and swept an iron foundry in Michigan over the weekend.

Frazier Snively, 58, of Monroe, suffered fatal burns Sunday as flames of undetermined origin destroyed his home. A son pulled him out, but too late.

George Teachout, 55, was suffocated Saturday when trapped in his room in a small downtown Detroit hotel. Police have arrested another roomer, Lawrence E. Peake, 28, in whose room the fire started, for investigation of arson and negligent homicide.

A $250,000 fire in the Hotel Milner at Owosso Sunday drove 50 guests out and destroyed most of their personal belongings as it ate through the 75-year-old downtown landmark.

Two airplanes, a hangar and a garage were destroyed in a $50,000 blaze at Adrian Saturday night. Two persons were injured, neither seriously, there.

Flames devoured a Hazel Park supermarket and furniture store that covered an entire block Sunday night. The loss was estimated at $700,000. It attracted thousands to the Detroit suburb and snarled traffic, interfering with firemen from three departments fighting it.

Baby Bares Theft

DALLAS, Tex. — (AP) — Neighborhood grocer N. J. Shaw suspected shoplifting today when a 19-year-old woman tried to leave with a screaming baby. He called police, who probed the infant's blanket. The baby stopped howling when officers removed a frozen rabbit.

Writers Differ On Forecast In New Hampshire

By JACK BELL
CONCORD, N. H. — (AP) — Veteran political writers differ just as much as the politicians over the likely results of tomorrow's Presidential primary here.

A record number of newsmen is on hand to report the first test at the ballot boxes in the contest for the Republican nomination, as well as the fight Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn.) is making against President Truman for the Democratic prize.

Anybody's Guess

On the eve of the vote tomorrow, reporters' guesses range all the way from a double-barreled victory for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to predictions that Senator Taft (R-Ohio) will come out on top in the preferential (popularity) test.

None polled by the Associated Press thought Taft would top Eisenhower in the quest for the state's 14 Republican Presidential nominating votes.

Most of the newsmen think Truman will win a clear edge over Kefauver in both categories.

Show Down For Ike

Here is what some of the veteran reporters were saying:

Dewey L. Fleming, Baltimore Sun: "General Eisenhower is not going to get here the clear call he requires to get into the Presidential race. He needs a smashing victory here and I don't think he'll get it."

Frederic W. Collins, Providence Journal: "I think Eisenhower will win the preference primary and get 12 of the 14 delegates. I am picking Truman to win over Kefauver."

Burglars Kill 2 Cops At Hattiesburg, Miss.

HATTIESBURG, Miss. — (AP) — Two Hattiesburg policemen were killed in a wild gun battle after following a get-away car from the scene of an attempted burglary last night.

A man arrested three hours later was quoted by police as saying: "Hell, they shot at me first."

Patrolmen M. W. Vinson Jr., 32, and Jesse Sverett, 28, were shot and killed in the night of a few blocks from the Ace Weathers Motor Company. They had gone there to investigate a burglary report. The intruders fled through a side door as the police went in from the front.

Three Railroad Unions Strike For Higher Wages

IN HORSEMEAT SCANDAL — Doctor Herman Bundesen, nationally known authority on child care, takes a leave of absence from his job as president of Chicago's Board of Health, after State's Attorney John S. Boyle ordered drawing up of an indictment charging Bundesen with malfeasance and nonfeasance in connection with Chicago's horsemeat investigation. The order was given after a Cook County Grand Jury investigating the horsemeat scandals reportedly named Bundesen in a true bill. Bundesen said in a letter to Mayor Martin Kennelly, "I am guilty of no wrong-doing in the conduct of my office."

Michigan's network of railroad lines was snarled today by the surprise strike of operators on the New York Central system.

In Detroit, an estimated 800 members of three operating rail unions walked out. A total of 2,000 employees of the New York Central and its subsidiary, the Michigan Central, were idle.

Taken picket lines appeared at NYC terminals and yards in Detroit and Jackson, where 505 railroad men were idled.

Sabres Down 7 Migs In Korea

By GEORGE A. McARTHUR
SEOUL, Korea — (AP) — Seven Communist jet fighters were blasted out of the North Korean skies today, the U. S. Fifth Air Force reported. The Reds were trying to break through a screen of U. S. Sabre jets protecting U. N. fighter-bombers.

Three other Migs were damaged, the Air Force reported.

It was the biggest bag since Jan. 25, when the Sabres shot down 10 Migs in four battles.

The red-nosed Migs made three bold attempts to break through the Sabres and shoot up more than 100 fighter-bombers attacking a Communist rail line east of Suncheon in northwest Korea.

Ground action flared at only scattered points.

U. S. Eighth Army censors took the blanket of security off two more American divisions. The U. S. 40th (California National Guard) division is on the central front south of Kumsong. It came to Korea recently from occupation duty in Japan. The U. S. 25th division with an attached Turkish brigade is dug in along the spiny ridges northwest of the Punchbowl on the eastern front.

Twins Make It 18 Children For Idle Pennsylvania Miner

SCRANTON, Pa. — (AP) — Twin sons were delivered yesterday at Carbondale General hospital to Mrs. Rexford Oakley, of nearby Childs.

They were the 17th and 18th children for the 43-year-old woman and her husband, an unemployed miner. It was the first time any of the Oakley children were born in a hospital and it also was the first multiple birth in the family.

"I'd like to get up to 24," commented Oakley. He didn't indicate why.

Michigan's network of railroad lines was snarled today by the surprise strike of operators on the New York Central system.

Auto Production Hit

Affected by the sudden walkout Sunday were Michigan Central's some 4,500 daily passengers, 2,000 of them incoming, who travel over 2,000 miles of track in the state.

Automotive companies, which account for some 45 per cent of the 350,000 tons of freight switched through Detroit's Michigan Central yards each day, said it was too early to determine whether production would be affected. Officials expressed hope that current supplies of parts and materials would keep operations going until other freight transit is arranged.

The only New York Central trains not immediately tied up were those between Detroit and New York State over Michigan Central tracks in Ontario. Canadian crews man those runs, including the Buffalo Express from Detroit at 9 p. m., the Empire State to New York at 8:20 a. m. and the Detroit to New York at p. m.

Revolt Breaks Out In Havana

By BEN F. MEYER

HAVANA — (AP) — Fulgencio Batista rode back to power today in an army-backed revolt, three months ahead of Cuba's scheduled presidential elections. President Carlos Prío Socarras fled from his palace, where two men were killed.

President Prío, accompanied by two army officers and possibly under arrest, left the presidential palace after announcing that Batista had seized control of Camp Columbia, the army's major military base.

Two army tanks and army trucks with soldiers took over the presidential palace in the center of Havana. Nearby residents said they saw white flags appear in the palace windows as the troops arrived.

A Batista supporter, Lt. Rafael Salas, took over police headquarters. He announced "I am a colonel now" and chief of police. Orders went out to seize some government automobiles.

Batista, as a Cuban "strong man," controlled Cuba for 10 years, between 1933 and 1943. He was a declared presidential candidate in the elections scheduled for June.

The announced motives behind the revolt were corruption and gangsterism, which has been blamed for 30 killings since President Prío took office in 1948. Last August a senator committed suicide to "awaken Cuba against corruption in government," Salas said. Cubans were weary of gangsterism and corruption and army forces friendly to Batista had asked him to take over.

Wreck Of Ambulance Plane Takes 5 Lives

POMONA, Calif. — (AP) — Five bodies have been recovered from the wreckage of an ambulance plane that crashed on a flight from Needles, Calif., to Los Angeles.

Wreckage of the single engine craft, object of an extensive air and ground search since last Tuesday, was found on a mountainside near here Saturday.

The dead are: John R. Flick, 11, who was being flown to Los Angeles for an eye operation; his mother, Mrs. Eileen Wilson, 42; Albert Fleming, LaFitte, La., oilman and uncle of Mrs. Wilson; pilot William Nette, 42; Needles, and Bob Tracy, 45, Needles contractor and pilot.

Mobsters Rounded Up In Hunt For Killer Of Willie Sutton Tipster

By MARTY POST AND RONALD AURY

NEW YORK — (AP) — Police pushed a vast manhunt today for the killer of Arnold Schuster, the man who caused bank robber Willie Sutton's arrest.

Two major questions puzzled investigators: Was the slayer an underworld figure, who killed the 24-year-old Schuster to avenge the arrest of Sutton?

Or was he a crank, with a twisted mind hating informers and police in general?

Fugitive No. 1 Suspect

Some 140 detectives picked up scores of ex-convicts for questioning, and pushed through the city hunting clues.

The number one man sought was a convicted murderer and prison fugitive, Frederick J. (The Angel) Tenuto, an old pal of Sutton. They broke out of a Pennsylvania prison together in 1947.

Tenuto, already on the FBI's 10 most wanted men list, was reported seen in New York Friday by a bartender. Police discounted the report because the description didn't tally, but they rushed thousands of pictures of him over a wide area.

Schuster pointed out Sutton, the most wanted man in America, to police just 19 days before the young clothing salesman was slain Saturday night.

Threats Come Daily

Six doors away from home, Schuster was hit by four .38 caliber bullets.

People living nearby heard the shots and running feet. When they reached Schuster, he was dead — victim of a smooth, vicious, gangland type job.

For him, it was the end of days of torture, the fear of death ever present.

Police disclosed that he had received 11 threatening letters since he put the finger on Sutton. He had so many threatening phone calls that he had the number changed to an unlisted one.

Neighbors said he hadn't left the house for a week before he decided to venture out Saturday after FBI agents reassured him.

More To Be Named

Chairman Wood (D-Ga.) said another witness today will be Sheldon Tappes, a former official of the huge Ford local union of the CIO United Automobile Workers.

A committee attaché said Tappes is expected to name persons he believes to be Communists who are active in the 600-member Ford local. At least two of the union's members refused at previous hearings to answer certain ques-

Surprise Tieup Paralyzes NYC; May Spread Out

CHICAGO — (AP) — Strikes paralyzed most of the New York Central's inland service today and snarled rail connections in the St. Louis area a second day.

A war of nerves set in, with the striking engineers, firemen and conductors defying the Army, nominal operator of the rail carriers. But it was the public—shippers and travelers—who caught jitters and frustration.

Layoffs Start

Wholesale layoffs began on the Central system, completely shut down west of Buffalo. Several railroads canceled their trains to St. Louis until further notice.

The unions were told by Karl R. Bendetsen, Assistant Secretary of the Army, to call off the walkouts or face "appropriate action."

But a minor official of the Firemen's Brotherhood said today that the NYC strike might spread east to the Central's New York State service. There was a strong hint from the unions of possible walkouts on other lines.

Chiefs of the three big unions which struck in concert for higher wages—the Brotherhoods of Railway Conductors, Locomotive Engineers, and Locomotive firemen and Enginemen—themselves raised the question without answering it.

Brotherhoods Waiting

Written instructions to strikers said the orders would apply to "every other railroad to which the strike may later be extended." Another sentence said, "If it is determined to extend the strike to other railroads, full information will be furnished x x x to x x x those in charge x x x."

At a news conference in Cleveland, the Brotherhood leaders, Roy O. Hughes of the conductors, James P. Shields of the Engineers, and David B. Robertson of the Firemen and Enginemen, declined to elaborate. They said, "We'll have to wait developments."

There was also a possibility that the strategy of the fight for more pay envisaged selected strike targets and separate settlements, to avoid government intercession.

Army Still Boss

But already the Army, technical boss of the nation's railroads as a result of the wages and working rules impasse, had warned striking workers of the New York Central: Get back to work.

Truce Move Up To Korean Reds

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN

MUNSAN, Korea — (AP) — Allied negotiators warned the Communists today that threats and intimidation will not force the U. N. Command to accept Red terms for a Korean armistice.

"You cannot dictate the terms of an armistice and you cannot hope to achieve any progress in these meetings by resorting to threats and unfounded accusations," said Rear Adm. R. E. Libby.

He said U. N. negotiators did not propose to "sit and listen" any further to unfounded charges and repeated accusations that the Allied delegation was "telling lies." Libby emphasized later, however, that he did not threaten to break off the tightly deadlocked negotiations, now entering the ninth month.

He said the next move is up to the Reds.

Another group of truce negotiators debating truce supervision met only long enough to agree to meet again Tuesday. They adjourned after only six minutes—four minutes more than Sunday's two-minute session which set a record for brevity.

Icebreakers May Arrive Thursday

"Present plans are to send icebreakers into the Green Bay area including Little Bay de Noc on about March 13," the Ninth Coast Guard District headquarters, Cleveland, has informed Lloyd Hulett, officer in charge of the Escanaba light station.

Coast Guard headquarters has similarly advised Walter Olsen and the Escanaba district of the Michigan Fish Producers Association.

Commercial fishermen of the Escanaba-Menominee area have requested the Coast Guard to postpone icebreaking operations in the bay as long as possible. Winter ice fishing is now at a peak in this area.

The record shows that in the past three years navigation opening at Escanaba has varied as much as 21 days.

In 1949 the icebreakers arrived March 22 and the first boat came in March 23, the following day.

In 1950 the Mackinac arrived April 12, accompanying an ore carrier.

In 1951 the cutter broke open a channel to Escanaba on March 20 and the first ore boat did not arrive until April 1, 12 days later.

UCT Installs New Officers

More than 50 members of Council 616, Escanaba, their wives and friends attended the annual election and installation of officers meeting Saturday night. The meeting, held in the council's new clubhouse was preceded by a pot luck dinner served by the ladies of the newly organized auxiliary. More than one hundred persons were served.

New officers installed for the ensuing year were: Senior Counsellor, Clarence Larson; Junior Counsellor, Ed. Harkins, Jr.; Past Counsellor, Francis T. Rooney; Conductor, Al Taylor; Page, Al St. Pierre; Sentinel, Dr. Kirke Harrington; Chaplain, Henry J. Hickenpahl; Executive Committee, Axel Olson and Joseph Cota; re-elected for two year terms. Delegates to the Grand Council Session are Clarence Larson, John Lasnoski, M. R. Oslund, E. R. Pohl, C. C. Andy Anderson, Ed. Harkins, Jr.

This year a special award was given by the Supreme Council to the council gaining 125 or more members, either new or reinstatement, Escanaba qualified for this honor and chose Francis T. Rooney to represent this council at the Supreme Convention to be held in June at Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

Reports were given by the various convention committee chairmen on their progress to date for the Grand Council Session to be held in Escanaba June 6-7-8. The convention is expected to bring about 400 visitors to the city. Reservations chairman, Ed. Harkins, Jr., reported many requests already have been received.

Accomplishments for the past year were reviewed by the retiring Senior Counsellor, Mr. Rooney and of note were the large increase in membership placing Escanaba Council eighth in actual gain among all councils in the United States; the institution of a ladies auxiliary which at the present time the largest in membership of any unit in the state of Michigan; the purchase of its own clubhouse which is the only one in the state owned by its own council; the institution of a children's Christmas party and the formation of a blood bank among its members.

Rabies Vaccine Given 161 Dogs

One hundred and sixty-one Escanaba dogs have been licensed for 1952, with most of them receiving vaccination against rabies in a three-day "clinic" held at city hall fire station until the supply of vaccine was exhausted.

Dr. Joseph Ruwisch, veterinarian, said a new supply of vaccine has been ordered and the "dog clinic" will be held again next Saturday.

A new city ordinance requires that all dogs be vaccinated against rabies as a public health measure before they may be licensed.

Miss Belle Harvey, city treasurer, whose office issues the licenses, said 161 licenses have been issued and a total of $172 in revenue received from dog licenses so far this year.

The rabies vaccine protects the dog from infection and reduces the possibility of a rabies epidemic in a community. During the period of the "clinic" the vaccination is given at a nominal fee.

The St. Anne's Altar Society met at the Club house Thursday evening. During the business session there was a brief discussion concerning the dinner which the society will serve to the Rotary Clubs of Gladstone, Escanaba, Manistique and Munising April 17. Detailed plans for the dinner will be made at the next meeting on April 3.

Mrs. Edwin Peterson served as hostess during the social hour. Prizes for the cards were won by Mrs. Homer Beauchamp, bridge; Mrs. Reginald Hebert, 500 and Mrs. Clarence Menary, canasta.

Mrs. Fred Popour Jr. was appointed as hostess for the April meeting.

U. S. NATURAL WONDERS
The six natural wonders of the United States are the Grand Canyon, Niagara Falls, Yellowstone park, the giant redwood trees, the Rocky mountains, and the Palisades along the Hudson river.

The coldest weather they have probably ever experienced has ended for Delta county navy men Seaman Fred Gereau of Nahma and Seaman Apprentice Charles W. McNamara, son of Mr. and Mrs. John McNamara of Manistique.

The two men are aboard navy ships which recently returned from Atlantic Fleet Cold Weather Exercises near the southern tip of Greenland.

Their ships were two of 35 vessels which participated in the maneuvers conducted to familiarize ship's crews with operating conditions in frigid climatic temperatures.

Gereau, a former Nahma High School student who entered the service in 1950, is serving aboard the destroyer USS Wallace L. Lind and McNamara is a seaman on the destroyer USS Power.

3-Car Mishap Injures Two

A three-car accident at the Bark River bridge on US-2-41 early Sunday afternoon resulted in injuries to two persons, Mrs. Agnes Mueller of Ironwood, Mich. and Richard Larsen, 18, Lake Shore Drive.

The 67-year-old woman was in "fair" condition in St. Francis hospital today with head and facial cuts and body bruises. Larsen was treated at the hospital Sunday afternoon for knee and wrist injuries and dismissed.

The drivers of the automobiles involved:

John T. Pavlot Jr., 48, of 624 N. 10th S., Gladstone.

Adolph Mueller, 71, of the Gogebic county road commission in Ironwood.

Jerry Grzan, 20, of Homewood, Ill.

Delta county sheriff department officials investigating the accident reported that the Mueller car, traveling east, had just crossed the bridge when its right front wheel dropped off the road onto the shoulder, causing it to slide across the icy highway and into the approaching Pavlot car. The impact overturned the Pavlot car over the guard rail and threw the Mueller vehicle into the Grzan car traveling behind Pavlot.

Damages on the three cars were listed at $1,000 on the Pavlot car, $600 on Mueller's and $150 on the Grzan vehicle.

The accident occurred at 12:05 p. m.

No charges were brought on the drivers.

The Muellers were reported to have been on their way to attend a road meeting in Grand Rapids.

Six Injured As Car Hits House

MENOMINEE—A warrant was issued in Marinette Saturday charging Albert (Albie) Godin, of Menominee with reckless driving after an accident early Friday morning in which his car crashed into the Louis Fredrickson home a mile south of Marinette and injured Fredrickson and three of his sons.

The warrant was issued by Marinette Police Justice Dan J. Corry on complaint of Sheriff James Spangler, who said the warrant was issued to place a holding charge against Godin.

Godin is a patient in Marinette General Hospital, as are Mr. and Mrs. Fredrickson and three sons, William 12, Arthur, 9 and James, 10. All three of the boys were sleeping in a single bed when Godin's car struck their home after missing a curve on the old Peshtigo road and pushed the bed out of the house.

Son Is Grave
At Marinette General Hospital the condition of the injured boy was reported unchanged. The condition of James Fredrickson remains grave. He suffered a skull fracture.

Arthur suffered a fracture of the right leg and multiple bruises. His condition was reported critical yesterday and the same today. William suffered lacerations of the chin and multiple bruises. His condition was fair.

The mother, Marcella, 42, was admitted to the hospital yesterday suffering shock. She did not enter the hospital at the time of the accident. She was in the kitchen of the five-room frame house preparing breakfast at the time of the crash.

Sleeping At Time
Her husband, Louis, and Phillip, another son, were sleeping in one bed and the three injured boys in another. The father suffered lacerations and head injuries, but Phillip escaped injury.

Godin suffered lacerations and complained of pains in his legs. District Attorney Harry E. White continued his investigation today. He said reports of sheriff's officers showed that Godin's car left a curve and went 163 feet in a straight line before it crashed into the house. The brakes of the car were tested and found in good working condition, but there were no skid marks on the pavement. Lawn or snow and ice to show that the brakes had been applied.

Thousands At Scene
The small one-story frame house was almost parallel with the curve and Godin's car crashed into the rear addition. The house sets on a concrete foundation but has no basement. The car jumped the foundation to enter the house.

The front of Godin's car was extensively damaged, including the front axle, wheels, grill, fenders and hood. The windshield was shattered and broken in several places but did not come out of its frame.

Thousands of persons viewed the scene of the crash yesterday. Traffic Officer John Wood said there was a steady stream of cars along the narrow blacktop road that created a traffic control and parking problem.

Nahma Plans Sign Project

NAHMA, Mich. — Rustic signs patterned from those used by the U. S. Forest Service in the nearby Hiawatha National Forest will be erected in the 4,300-acre American Playground here.

The rustic signs will be placed along Highway US-2 and the connecting county roads and forest trails to designated various spots of historical, scenic and recreational interest between Nahma Junction and the shores of Big Bay de Noc.

Frank Hruska, in charge of special project construction for the American Playground Device Co., will supervise the making of the rustic signs. Hruska is a wood-working hobbyist, and during the past several years has made various furniture items in his neat workshop located in the rear of his home here.

Allen Mercier, supervisor of Nahma township and in charge of the land and resources division for American Playground, is mapping the area and locating the sites for the various signs.

Hruska and Mercier conferred recently with Ranger Art Schafer and Carpenter Foreman Harry Person of the Forest Service district office at Rapid River regarding the plan to make the American Playground signs harmonize with those erected in the Hiawatha National Forest.

Douglas fir will be used for the signboards, and either cedar or Norway pine posts for the supports. The wood will be stained with preservative chemicals. Construction of the signs will be started shortly so as to have them completed for installation next spring.

The signs will denote the directions to Nahma golf course, beach, perch fishing docks, playgrounds, museum, nature hiking trails, old sawmill sites and other spots of historical interest in the American Playground.

Compromise, Not Controversy, Will Aid Walleye Protection

THE Michigan Senate today is scheduled to vote on a bill to restrict commercial fishing for walleyes in Delta county waters of northern Green bay.

It should be made clear, and the Walleye Protective Association has so pointed out, that the measure is not so much designed to control or discourage commercial fishing as to provide net-free areas that sport fishermen can call their own.

The interests of the sports fishermen, the tourist and resort industry, and the commercial fishing business, are not inimical to each other. They can and should be able to get along with mutual benefit.

Controversy has marked previous efforts of the Walleye Protective Association to have the Legislature set aside, under law, certain areas of Big and Little Bay de Noc and the South Bay Shore where hook and line fishermen can indulge their sport without becoming entangled in commercial fish nets.

Any attempt to close the bays to commercial fishing should be eyed with the same distrust with which the public should view efforts to abolish all controls over commercial fishing. A workable compromise appears to be the solution.

In seasons of abundance there are more walleyes than sports fishermen can ever harvest; in lean years there are so few that commercial fishermen ignore the walleyes. Yet in every year thousands of sports fishermen, more concerned with recreation than pounds of fish, come to Delta county for pleasure—with profit to the entire area.

Perhaps the sports fisherman and commercial fisherman will never be able to understand the other's point of view, but to the people who have no other interest than the peace and prosperity of the community some workable compromise appears necessary. The present Walleye Protective Association bill seems to meet that need.

As a result of the proposed legislation we may be able to have our fish and eat them, too.

Congratulations To Basketball Champions

CONGRATULATIONS to the Escanaba Eskymos and the St. Joseph Trojans basketball teams. Congratulations, too, to the Nahma Arrows of Nahma High School.

To the best of our knowledge, this is the first year in local basketball history that the two local high school basketball teams captured their respective district championships in the same year. Each of the schools has won district basketball titles in the past but never before have the two local teams won district championships at the same time.

Both of the local teams won their titles Saturday night in scorching battles. For the Eskymos, their victory over Menominee marked their second successive single point decision in tournament play. The Trojans won by four points but in a battle that was perhaps even more dramatic.

The Nahma Arrows were brilliant as usual in defending their Class E district title and are the favorites to cop the state Class E championship next weekend.

To all of these Delta county basketball teams, the basketball fans of Delta county extend their congratulations and best wishes for success in the approaching regional tournaments.

OVER THE HUMP

(Iron Mountain News)

At least one obstacle to the relief of the unemployment situation in the community was hurdled recently when the U. S. Department of Labor certified Dickinson county and environs as a surplus-labor, or distress area within the terms of the directive issued some time ago by the Office of Defense Mobilization. Approval of the certification by the ODM is expected soon, so that the order may become immediately effective.

It is somewhat ironical that in order to achieve this end the Labor Department included some adjoining areas which definitely have no appreciable labor-surplus or economic stress. This is in line with the terms of the original ODM directive which stipulated that to be certified as labor-surplus a given community must embrace at least 50,000 population or at least 15,000 jobless persons. Since Dickinson county, of and by itself, obviously could not qualify under these terms, the Labor Department apparently saw fit to expand the geographical limitations, with the result that Iron and Florence counties, and Niagara township in Marinette county, are included with Dickinson in the "distress area."

Florence county, where a number of former Ford workers reside and where there is very little industry other than the summer-resort business, might conceivably be thought of as a distress area. But Iron county, where the mines are going full blast, could hardly be thought of in these terms. Likewise, there is no critical situation in Niagara township. Withal, there is no quarrel with the means by which the Labor Department arrived at its conclusions. The important factor is that the way is now open for this area to obtain work on the basis of available skills and facilities rather than low bids.

Hotz says our pilots believe that as soon as enemy pilots become competent in the proving air over Korea, they are "given a diploma" and shipped out somewhere. Where? A disturbingly good guess would be that they are going back to train still more pilots.

The writer concludes that whatever may be the day-to-day score in the first great struggle for jet fighter supremacy, the battle is of enormous significance for the future.

The American people and certainly their legislators, should weigh this statement well as Congress prepares to take up the 1953 Air Force budget.

False economy now in so vital, complex, and fast changing a field as air power can be an unbeatable handicap in the long haul for air supremacy.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—One of the paradoxes of politics is that President Truman allowed his name to be placed in the New Hampshire primary to save a Democratic national committeeman who consistently plays ball with the Republicans.

The committeeman, Emmett Kelley, was certain to lose his post and with him other organization Democrats, if the President didn't run. Now, however, the race looks so tight in New Hampshire that this little group of Democrats may lose out anyway.

Kelley, for whom Truman did this favor, is so close to New Hampshire Republicans, that GOP Gov. Sherman Adams has consistently appointed him racing commissioner. In return, Kelley has frequently thrown his weight behind Republican policies in order to get Democratic members of the New Hampshire Legislature to support the governor. Kelley is also backed by the banking interests through the First National Bank of Boston, the utilities through Lawrence Whitmore, and works for the stanchly Republican Brown Paper Company of Berlin, N. H. These are the same powerful interests which used part of Kelley's machine to attempt to defeat Senator Tobey, though Tobey supported so many of Truman's policies that his GOP enemies called him a Democrat.

Thus Truman bared his breast and let his name stand in the New Hampshire primary: to save a leader who has consistently opposed his basic principles; yet who, in order to save his political prestige, is now pulling out every card in the deck to put Truman across in the current primary.

KEFAUVER CREEPS UP

To do so Kelley has done the following: 1. Lined up the state's best Democratic vote-getters to run as Truman delegates, and the smartest politicians to manage the Truman campaign. In contrast Senator Kefauver's delegates are unknown, while his political workers are amateurs.

2. Cracked the whip over federal job holders. Jim Farley once said that every federal worker was worth 40 votes, counting his friends and relatives, and, in a small state like New Hampshire, the 2,300 federal jobs are enough to swing a Democratic primary.

3. Swung the labor unions behind Truman. This was accomplished by a 7-to-3 vote of the United Labor Policy Committee which includes the AFL, CIO, United Mine Workers and an independent shoe union.

Despite this, no AFL representative showed up at the recent Manchester meeting at the Rice-Varick hotel featuring ex-Sen. Scott Lucas of Illinois and ex-Secretary of the Navy John L. Sullivan; while Adelard Cotey, chairman of the United Labor Policy Committee—though it may be denied—is a secret Kefauver supporter.

Despite these overwhelming Truman odds, however, here is what has been happening in the last week.

By getting out and meeting people, the senator from Tennessee has won rank-and-file support. Though not a stirring speaker, Kefauver's sincerity, modesty and honesty has made a deep imprint, and his whirlwind tour of the state has left a trail of supporters behind. The question is whether it will be enough to offset the organized labor and machine vote.

SOUR SCOTT LUCAS

Kefauver completely nonplussed Emmett Kelley by sending a personal messenger to assure him that there would be no hard feelings after the primary. This was done so quietly that it didn't leak to the press, but one of Kefauver's aides marched right into Emmett Kelley's stronghold and delivered the message. Kelley was so flabbergasted that he almost spluttered.

In contrast, ex-Senate Majority Leader Scott Lucas, still nursing a grudge against Kefauver, has invaded New Hampshire to get revenge. Lucas poured out his bitterness at a secret meeting of Democratic leaders at the Rice-Varick hotel in Manchester.

About 45 leading Democrats came in response to wires from ex-Secretary of the Navy John L. Sullivan, but the meeting was brief and dispirited, with Lucas whining about his defeat in Illinois instead of delivering a fighting, pro-Truman speech.

Lucas, an able citizen when he is able to forget the past, complained that Kefauver had cost him his Senate seat by bringing the crime investigation to Chicago, and Kefauver wouldn't have embarrassed the Democratic party if he had been a good Democrat. Lucas concluded that President Truman is "invaluable in this hour of peril" and "should be persuaded to run again."

Eager Amateurs Fumbling Ike's Chance; Story Of Wasted Effort

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

NEA Staff Correspondent

MINNEAPOLIS—(NEA)—Eager but inept political amateurs, fumbling against their professional opposition, are writing a story of puzzlement, defeat and disappointment in their campaign to make Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower the Republican candidate for President.

All over the country, the amateurs seem to be hurting rather than helping the general's chances—and the fact that the amateurs, unlike their opponents, do not have a candidate they can exhibit in person appears to be further confusing their efforts.

For a closeup of this picture of frustration you need only to focus on Minnesota, where the collapse of efforts to build a real organization for Ike left an unhappy legacy of wasted effort. It deprived his backers of a good chance to nail down a sizable core of delegates and from demonstrating in an important midwestern state that the general has the popular appeal claimed for him.

The night after Eisenhower's name was ruled off the Minnesota presidential primary ballot, about 30 angry supporters besieged his Minneapolis headquarters and poured their frustrated energies into projects promoting the general's candidacy.

But nothing they did or could do would likely help much in getting Ike the Republican nomination at Chicago in July. They could only look ahead to aiding him to win the election in the event he becomes the GOP nominee.

And they weren't sure how best to prepare for that prospect. "We'll think of something," said young Bill Holbrook, manager of the headquarters. But you could sense there and everywhere in Eisenhower circles the feeling of disappointment.

From the start this was a tale of eager Eisenhower forces alternately doing nothing or tripping over their own feet. When they at length entered a slate of delegates for the general, it was not with the positive attitude of men who believe they are championing the candidate of all candidates. It was a negative act, to head off splinter groups allegedly bent on selfishly exploiting Eisenhower's popularity.

A day before Minnesota's Eisenhower organization collapsed in ignominy, one veteran political expert called it "pitifully inept."

Another labeled it "nebulous." The consensus of seasoned on-lookers was that it was a frail skeleton incapable of supporting a genuine campaign drive.

It has thereby wiped out their hopes that Minnesota might influence other midwestern states like Iowa, Illinois and Indiana to pay more official heed to the general's candidacy. And it has, of course, weakened the national effort to establish that "clear call to duty" to which alone the general said he would respond.

National leaders in the Eisenhower camp do not see it this way. They hailed the Minnesota court ruling happily as "getting them off the hook." For the Eisenhower campaign in this state did not have the blessing of the general's key spokesmen.

Their view is that Harold E. Stassen, former Minnesota governor and now president of the University of Pennsylvania, should be conceded his home state's 28 delegates in the favorite son tradition.

They believe it was wrong to stir "needless antagonisms" by challenging Stassen. They are convinced he is basically for Eisenhower, remembering his espousal of the general at an earlier time.

Furthermore, there is evidence that possibly half the Stassen delegate choices would rate Eisenhower their second pick. The national leaders actually expect to capture them all in the likely event Stassen's national candidacy makes little headway.

Perhaps this conflict between national Eisenhower leaders and the Minnesota group lay at the root of this sad case history. The Minnesotans never got up steam.

Last Fall, fresh from a visit to Eisenhower in France, Bradshaw Mintener, general counsel of Pillsbury Mills, set up an Eisenhower Committee. The bare bones of a state organization were put together, yet little was done until January.

With Ike rated a candidate after his Jan. 7 statement, real stirrings began. Mintener quickly learned, however, that Senator Lodge, the general's campaign manager, disapproved entry of a slate in the March 18 primary.

"But we heard rumors that certain factions were planning to capitalize on Eisenhower's popularity by putting in slates for him," Mintener says. "We were worried that we might lose control of the situation. So we prepared an emergency set of petitions ourselves, and got up a slate, just in case."

Mintener explained the situation to Lodge and others, but was still advised to keep "Ike out of it."

Nevertheless, worried men aligned with Mintener insisted on filing an Eisenhower slate Feb. 1. Their haste was their undoing. Filing petitions in one area were not sworn to, as required by law. They called it "a calculated risk."

In the days that followed, the amateur leaders tried to whip up sentiment, but it was a meager effort. No outside help was in prospect, and Lodge publicly regretted the Minnesota filing.

Then the last blow fell. A St. Paul lawyer named James Fetsch, styling himself friendly to Eisenhower, asked the state high court to strike his name from the ballot on the ground it was illegally filed and was doing the general more harm than good.

Eisenhower people said they'd never heard of Fetsch, and called the move a Stassen plot. But the court wasn't interested in Fetsch. It took one look at the faulty petitions and threw them out.

Said one downcast Minnesotan: "The big fellows in Washington were glad about it, but I don't see why. How many happy solutions like this can the general stand and still have a candidacy worth talking about at convention time?"

So They Say

Americans have steadily been getting less of nothing (in doughnuts). In 1931, for example, the doughnut hole was about an inch and a half in diameter. By 1941 it was down to 3/4 of an inch. —Stanley Anderson, of National Dunks Association.

The President expressed his dislike for the Franco regime, which is, I believe, largely based on the intolerable delays of the Spanish government in carrying out effectively its promises that there should be freedom of religion. —Stanton Griffiths, former U. S. ambassador to Spain.

May I say, off the record, that in six years on this committee, this is the first time I have seen a Lieutenant General (Raymond S. McLean) change his own charts. —Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R., Mass.).

By CLINT DUNATHAN

SERVING THE MASTER—Universal Military Training, one of the most controversial subjects to come before Congress in many years, is a dead issue for the time being.

But the old scores and the old scores will probably be settled and probed in months to come. One of the bitterest comments to result from defeat of UMT was made by Donald R. Wilson, national commander of the American Legion.

"I can imagine a large number of people are happy tonight and most of them are within the confines of the Soviet Union," he said.

That statement alone should rally the forces of plain people in the United States whose opposition to UMT, correctly interpreted by the majority of Congress, sent UMT back to committee instead of making it the law of the land.

CONGRESS LISTENED—The national commander of the American Legion reveals an amazing ignorance of the forces that brought defeat (temporary though it may be) of the military's pet project for permanent compulsory military service.

The congressmen who voted to return UMT to committee were listening to the people of the United States—not to the dictators of totalitarian leaders.

Among those congressmen is Charles E. Potter, Cheboygan, Mich., congressman from the 11th district which includes Delta and all of the eastern Upper Peninsula counties.

NOT COMMUNISTS—The commander's charge that most of the people who were happy over the shelving of UMT "are within the confines of the Soviet Union" is most unfair.

Obviously Wilson has long lost touch with the people of the United States outside of the brass-bound confines of the Pentagon.

The people who sought (and will continue to seek) the death of UMT are not Communists and they are not even faintly pink fringe.

WHO THEY ARE—Congressmen voted to shelve UMT because of the many letters they received from people back home—people who have children, who work, who pay taxes—the typical American family people.

Sometimes their expressions against UMT went to their congressmen through organizations such as Parent-Teachers' associations. You may recall a column a couple months ago in which we reported that Congressman Potter had not yet made up his mind on UMT, that he was open to opinions.

A PTA unit at St. Ignace, informing Potter it opposed UMT, received a reply dated Feb. 8 in which he reported:

"Please be advised that it is my intention to vote against this legislation when it comes before the House the latter part of this month."

OF PATRIOTISM—Congressman Potter is a veteran of World War II—a war in which he lost both legs. He is a member of several veterans' organizations, including the American Legion.

The patriotism of Congressman Potter is without question. He voted to return UMT to committee and on the basis of his letter he will go farther and vote to kill UMT permanently if and when the measure again comes before Congress.

The national commander of the American Legion is wrong in his interpretation of UMT defeat. Men like Charles Potter and veterans of past wars who fought for their country without benefit of UMT are above the slander voiced by Commander Wilson.

His statement only confirms the growing conviction that autocratic and dictatorial militarism is not for the American people.

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

CAESAR'S SOLDIERS BECOME MODERN PALS

One of our learned scholars recently fairly "blew a gasket," as my young son would say, because a reporter had "misused" the word "cohort" (CO-hort). "The illiterate scribe" apparently didn't know, that, to Julius Caesar, a "cohort" was the tenth part of a military legion, or about 600 soldiers. He and other equally ignorant writers were now using the term as if it meant close pals, colleagues.

The critic was right—as far as he went. Caesar, in his military histories, did use "cohort" to mean such a body of soldiers. And, true, that is still the general meaning attached to the word. But the critic overlooked one small point. Just as "regiment" is sometimes used in a non-military manner, so, even in Caesar's time, were non-military writers using "cohort" with a non-military meaning. They were using it to mean the train of attendants, the retinue of an important person.

Possibly the reporter who was so severely criticized could have used "retinue" (RET-i-new), but did not choose to because it did not quite fit his needs. Like attendants or retainers, retinue implies followers who are paid in some manner—hired servants, hirelings.

Or he might have used "partisan" (PAR-ti-zn). Though this carries no notion of employee or hireling, our reporter may have rejected it on the grounds that it usually indicates an individual who is blindly devoted to his party or his leader, a fanatic. There is no warmth or comradeship implied by the term.

And so our reporter may have called upon his recollection of the writings of Cicero and Sallust and Ovid. Then he may have drawn also upon his own knowledge of the deep loyalty and affection of a regiment toward its colonel, so when he used "cohort" he gave it a warmer meaning, a closer bond than was given to the term by those old Roman writers. Not pals exactly, but loyal and friendly followers.

The Doctor Says...

Several Causes Can Contribute To Sterility in Both Sexes

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

"I have been married a year and a half," writes Mrs. B., "but cannot seem to have a baby. One doctor has told me I have a cyst on my left ovary, and cannot get pregnant until I have an operation."

No one knows exactly how many married couples there are who want children but are unable to have them. Judging from what is known about the subject, however, there must be hundreds of thousands of involuntarily barren marriages.

Until comparatively recently, the inability to have children was always blamed on the wife. It is now known that the husband is actually responsible in a high proportion of cases.

Many possible causes for sterility exist in both men and women. Structural defects (as seems to be Mrs. B's case), disturbances in the glands of internal secretion (hormones) and absent or abnormal sperm or eggs are among the possibilities.

In many cases, the difficulty, regardless of whether it is in the husband or in the wife, can be discovered and rectified either by medical or surgical means.

In women, for example, the Rubin test which is used to discover whether the passageways by which the egg passes to the womb are open, has been of great use in diagnosing sterility caused by obstruction in the tubes.

STERILITY MAY BE BRIEF

In addition to the more definite causes for sterility in men and women, it is now recognized that in many cases the inability to conceive is not complete, but is temporary and merely caused by some minor ailment.

A slight anemia, a vitamin deficiency, severe underweight or overweight, or other signs of being below par may be at fault. When such things are corrected, fertility may be restored in some cases and the desired child may soon be on the way.

Considerable skill and experience is necessary to explore all the possibilities for sterility. Both husband and wife must be investigated if there is a real desire to find the solution.

It cannot always be found, but in an increasing number of cases the results are turning out well. The successful outcome to problems of this kind has meant happiness to many discouraged couples.

Baseball Gives Rivera A Break

By ROBERT RUARK

NEW YORK — The so-called national pastime of baseball has been noted in the past more for its hypocrisy and timidity at precedent-setting than for courage or justification of its proud title as the people's sport. This was especially true of major league ball, which busily maintained a bland mask of purity on the surface while condoning many a shady deed at the bottom.

But over the last few years I have been liking baseball a little better as the sport of the American people. It proved itself, a little, after it allowed itself unwillingly to be conquered by Branch Rickey and the ban against Negro players was chopped down without hurt either to the sport itself or to the pioneers in racial equality.

Case of Jim Rivera
It has looked particularly good, so far, in its handling of Jim Rivera, a rookie outfielder with the St. Louis Browns. Rivera is a New York boy from the city's Puerto Rican belt. He comes to the majors via a four-year jolt for attempted rape—one of those military court-martial sentences which often are clouded by technicalities. Rivera's stay in the jailhouse was portion of a 20-year sentence for attempted attack on an officer's daughter who was, I believe, herself an officer.

Rivera was a child of the poverty-bitten slums, a boxer for a bit, and always, a contestant in the same ring with hunger when he was a kid. He is also, by every account, a whiz of an outfielder and a fine hitter. He is happily married now and is evidently sincere in an effort to shape a new life for himself with baseball as the fulcrum.

There was pressure, from religious and civil quarters, to bar Rivera from baseball because of his record, and the pressure was rejected by both Bill Veeck of the Browns, who owns Rivera's contract, and by Ford Frick, commissioner of baseball. Frick's answer to the pressure, for the record, was one of the fine utterances of our time, in sport or out of it.

A Classic Statement
"If the purpose is punishment," Frick wrote, "then he has already been punished. If the purpose is cure or improvement, then this man has a greater chance to make good being allowed to live as others live. Since Rivera came into baseball his conduct has been beyond question. If in the future he shows he has not profited his experience, this office will take action."

This is a distant departure from the old attitude of baseball toward anything that might reap a frown, a direct result of the old Black Sox scandals that made the game supersensitive to any criticism from outside. Baseball would wink and condone and cover up if practical, the sin was attracting attention. Baseball never gave a nickel for morals, really, so long as infractions were kept quiet.

I have known a few players, for instance, whose off-field conduct might have made an attempted-assault charge seem mild exercise, and some of the fancy shenanigans of the owners, in player deals and chain-gang enforcement of hirelings would shock the side whiskers off the anti-trust laws. Which is why I see no reason for Rivera's past to be hurled at him if he sticks in the big time. What the boy did, he did, and he paid for it.

Deserves A Chance
The bench jockeys of the Pacific Coast league have already worked him over as thoroughly as one baseball player can scuff sand into sore spots. He has taken abuse and held still for it, and probably will take a lot more, because baseball players as a class are remarkably lacking in chivalry. But I would like to see persistent references to Rivera's criminal past downplayed.

If he doesn't behave they'll fling him out. If he does behave he will have earned some sort of right to forgiveness, and to critical estimate as a performer alone. Baseball always has been ready to parrot its own praises as a character-molder of the very young. It is now faced with a full-scale test of its powers as a rehabilitator of the mature. If it allows its own people to drive Jim Rivera off the reservation again, the game is apt to be more at fault than the man whose record, so far in the sport, seems a clear case of emphatic effort to make good.

Russia Cracks Whip In Austrian Schools

VIENNA — (AP) — Soviet authorities recently inspected Austrian schools in their occupation zone to check the progress of Russian language courses, a spokesman of the Austrian Ministry for Education said recently.

In schools where but little interest was found on the part of the pupils to learn Russian or where records showed insufficient progress, the inspecting officers blamed the leader of the school and the respective teachers for sabotaging the education plans.

The Soviet officials also demanded the showing of Soviet films in the schools. Teachers were to be held responsible for a complete attendance at these performances.

Revenue Bureau Puts Run On Tax Dodgers

By CHARLES F. BARRETT

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Stung by scandals within its own ranks, the Internal Revenue Bureau launched a silent but sweeping drive during the last six months of 1951 against tax dodgers.

This became known with the issuance of a report which showed: 1. 744 tax fraud cases were sent to the justice department for prosecution in the last half of 1951—almost three times as many as in the same period the previous year.

2. In 1950 for each 100 such new cases, 60 were dropped without full court prosecution. But last year, only 13 out of 100 were dropped.

3. Within the bureau itself, cases sent to the penal division for prosecution increased 26 per cent. The number dropped by the division without prosecution declined 55 per cent.

4. Outstanding warrants for collection of all types of delinquent taxes increased from 902,007 cases involving 543 million dollars at the end of 1950, to 955,841 cases involving 641 million dollars by the end of 1951.

Laxity Charged
This crackdown on tax evaders came during the height of last year's revenue scandals, when charges of laxity, corruption and inefficiency were making headlines.

Officials said privately the scandal spotlight may have spurred action in some cases, but there were other big factors. They cited a special drive which has netted 50 million dollars in assessments against racketeers, and use of "electronic brain" computing machines to free more personnel for enforcement work.

Figures on the stepped-up enforcement campaign were disclosed in a revenue activities report—the second such report ever released to the public. The reports are compiled monthly but the bureau in the past has classified them "for administrative use" only and has not made them public.

The first report to be released was put out last November, but later ones were withheld. An official said the reports will be released regularly from now on.

More Men Fired
This month's report showed seven employees were fired or forced to quit during January. The total for 1951 reached 141. Details on the new dismissals were not announced, but the report said they involved minor infractions.

The 65-page report also revealed the revenue bureau has assigned a special agent to help district attorneys in each judicial district across the nation in a drive against organized crime. "A comprehensive program has been developed to assist the grand juries that are convening in every section of the country," the bureau said.

Tax agents have recommended 254 cases for prosecution under the new law requiring gamblers to take out tax stamps. So far, 25 gamblers have been indicted for failing to comply. Violations have been uncovered in 33 states, the bureau said.

Getting Arrested Is A Treat In This Town

LELAND, Miss. — (AP) — Getting arrested about noon on Thursday is one of the nicest things happening to motorists passing through this Mississippi Delta town these days. Some unwary couple traveling with out-of-state license plates is pounced on by Police Officer W. G. Ray.

"You're under arrest," Ray announces. "Why?" the motorists ask in bewilderment.

Parrying the question, Ray asks if they are in a hurry. Most always the worrying couple says "No" and off to "trial" they go. Destination is not the jail house but the Leland Lions club's weekly luncheon. The couple are told that for "punishment" they must enjoy the luncheon and accompanying shenanigans.

Afterwards, "sentence" is pronounced—the couple must promise to "come back this way again."

Most Of Nation Gets Rainfall

(By The Associated Press)

More of March's unpredictable weather sloped into Michigan today in generally gloomy fashion.

It was cloudy and moist in most parts of the state, and more of the same was forecast.

The weather bureau predicted occasional rain in the south and central parts of the Lower Peninsula tonight and Tuesday, with rain or snow in the north. It's due to get colder Tuesday.

Occasional rain or snow was forecast for tonight for Upper Michigan. Tuesday is due to be cloudy and colder with snow flurries near Lake Superior.

At any rate, it's warmer. Detroit's low for tonight is expected to be 40 and the high Tuesday 44. Only Upper Peninsula cities reported temperatures below 30 last night. Lowest was Houghton, with 24. Elsewhere the mercury ranged in the low to mid-thirties.

Some slippery spots were reported on state trunklines. The state highway department warned that gravel roads were especially slippery. The condition was caused by freezing rain.

Except for a strip of the southwest and midwest, rain was general in the middle of the nation. A band of snow and sleet ran from northern New Mexico to southwestern Iowa, however.

Surprise Railway Tieup May Spread From NYC Lines

work or face "appropriate action."

Circumstances indicated Bendetsen may have meant a court injunction when he issued the warning in Washington, but he did not elaborate. The Army has been custodian and nominal operator of railroad lines since government seizure in August, 1950, when the same unions threatened a nationwide walkout.

The unannounced strike halted most New York Central trains west of Buffalo Sunday morning, many before they reached their destinations.

It also hit the St. Louis terminal railroad, paralyzing this vital switching center for east-west rail traffic.

Airline Business Booms

The railroad said more than 10,000 quit work and the strike affected close to 15,000 employees. The union said the number on strike was 5,500. An NYC spokesman said a continuance of the strike for several days would force as many as 50,000 out of work.

Strike leaders said there was "no particular reason" for singling out the New York Central.

The NYC operates the largest Chicago to New York and Boston passenger service of any railroad. It hauls some 20,000 passengers daily over the more than 6,000 miles of strike-affected routes.

Stranded passengers were shifted to other railroad lines, notably the Pennsylvania which put on extra trains, and to airlines and buses. Airlines were reported running extra flights out of Chicago, and were doing a boom business on westbound flights from New York.

Issues Unsettled

At Cleveland, truck line facilities may be overtaken because of the railroad's embargo on freight.

The Nickel Plate railroad, which uses NYC terminal facilities in Chicago, used buses to shuttle passengers between its Stony Island yards on the Chicago south side and the La Salle Street station. The Nickel Plate also used shuttle buses between Madison, Ill., and the St. Louis terminal.

The strike was a new outbreak in a three-year dispute over wages and working rules. A carrier spokesman said pay and hours are virtually settled but the unresolved issues of rules has held up a contract putting the pay boosts into effect.

The railroads want the right to: (1.) Give train crews longer runs; (2.) Pay an employee the highest wage plus a bonus instead of two full daily wages when he performs jobs in two classifications; (3.) Extend present yard limits to include industrial sidings outside present limits; and (4.) Ask train crews to report late for work instead of paying them while waiting to take over a late train.

Firemen Want More

The unions protest these rules changes "could cost the men as much or more than the wage increases offered."

One wage issue unsettled is the firemen's demand for four cents more than a 38-cent hourly wage increase offered yard service employees.

A railroad spokesman said the engineers have accepted the 38 cents an hour for yard service men and all three have agreed to a 23¢ cent hourly boost for road service employees.

Hourly-paid employees now draw overtime rates after 48 hours a week, but carriers have

Public Health Rules Change

No longer required in most U. S. communities are the bright yellow-and-black quarantine signs which used to proclaim the presence in a household of measles, mumps, scarlet fever and the other communicable diseases. Although placarding is no longer required in many U. S. cities, local health departments have by no means relaxed their fight against children's diseases and parents are still held responsible for keeping sick children home.

The doing away with quarantine signs in America has been accompanied in most cities by a much more liberal policy on the part of school and health authorities in setting up blanket quarantines. If Billy Jones gets measles he will be sent home and told to stay home until he's well, exactly as was true a generation ago. But his classmates in the second grade and even his brothers and sisters may be allowed to continue in school, although they will be subject to a daily physical checkup on their arrival in school by a physician or a school nurse.

More Knowledge

A comparison of health regulations in force in this country during the first World War and those suggested to states and municipalities by the American Public Health Association today shows a steady advance in medical knowledge of the communicable diseases and a better understanding of how these may be controlled. A case in point is scarlet fever. In the Association's pioneer handbook on communicable diseases, published in 1917, this was described as an entirely separate disease of unknown cause. In the most recent handbook, published in 1950, scarlet fever appears as a streptococcal sore throat accompanied by a rash, an infection which can be caused by any of more than 40 different kinds of "strep" bacteria. Quarantining of exposed children for scarlet fever is no longer suggested by the Association.

In some respects the Association's handbook of 1950 seems to the layman somewhat sterner than its 1917 report. Whooping cough is an example. Great emphasis is placed in the 1950 report on protecting susceptible children of pre-school age from contact with other children who are suspected of having whooping cough, and vaccination is urged for babies, to be started when they are two months old. In 1917, prophylactic vaccination was described as being "recommended" by some observers, but not effective in all cases. And although there was a general quarantine suggested for children, there was no special attention paid to the dangers of the disease to very young children.

Immunization Preferred

Although formal quarantine regulations have been in use in the western world since at least the 15th century—the word is from the French, meaning "forty days"—the 1950 handbook of the Public Health Association underscores the belief of health experts that many highly contagious diseases can never be controlled effectively through quarantine alone. This is true, the handbook points out, in the case of a disease like diphtheria, which cannot be held in check in any way except through the use of satisfactory active (long-term) immunization. Yet before active immunization became common, quarantine regulations for diphtheria were among the strictest in the world, and in the case of an epidemic kept exposed persons of all ages from stirring out of their own houses.

Automobile Badly Damaged In Mishap

A highway accident on US-241 early Sunday morning resulted in $500 damage to cars driven by Rose M. Johnson, Route One, Escanaba, and Lynn F. Nelsen, 35, of Powers.

Sheriff's officials reported that Nelsen was attempting to pass the Johnson car when it turned into the driveway of the Leslie Johnson home a short distance west of the Dells on US-241 at 1:30 a. m.

Nelsen stated that he applied the brakes of his car but was unable to avoid the Johnson car and skidded on the icy pavement into the rear of the vehicle.

No charges were made.

Nelsen sustain a cut on the left knee. It was untreated.

Front end damage to the Nelson car was estimated at $300 with $200 estimated on the Johnson vehicle.

Iron Mountain Job Situation Critical, Governor Reports

LANSING — (AP) — Governor Williams today telegraphed C. E. Wilson, Federal Defense Mobilizer, the unemployment situation in the Iron Mountain area will become desperate in three to five weeks unless defense jobs are provided there.

Williams told Wilson that after a personal visit to the area Friday and Saturday and conferences with local leaders, "I am convinced the unemployment situation will change from critical to desperate in three to five weeks unless work is forthcoming."

Williams "urgently" requested defense contracts for the area "particularly a large one to use the Kingsford Chemical Plant as quickly as possible."

Only One Survivor From 3 Ships Lost In North Sea Gales

LONDON — (AP) — Weekend gales in the North Sea are believed to have taken the lives of 60 seamen. Only one survivor has been found from three missing ships.

He was First Mate Willi Sunkyan, of the 447-ton German trawler Thor, which capsized in heavy seas and 70-mile-an-hour winds near the Orkney Islands. The body of a dead sailor was found in a lifeboat with him and 17 other crewmen were reported lost.

The 829-ton Finnish ship Adna had radioed she was sinking and her 18 crewmen were feared lost. Search continued from Norway, however.

Lifeboats and a coastal command plane reported a fruitless search for the 1,253-ton Swedish ship Rosso, with 24 persons aboard. The ship sent an S. O. S. from off Scotland.

Home Extension Groups Meet

Mrs. Martin Falck was hostess at her home Thursday evening, March 6, to the Rock Home Extension Group. Leaders for the evening were Mrs. Edwin Hunt and Mrs. Walter Mannie, who gave demonstrations on lamp shade covering. In addition several parlor games were played. Lunch was served by Mrs. Falck at a colorfully decorated table in St. Patrick's Day theme. Mrs. Arnold Sayen was a guest at this gathering. The next group meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Herman Johnson.

The Rock Home Extension Group II also met on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Frank Salmi. Demonstrations on lamp shade covering were given by leaders, Mrs. Clarence Larson and Mrs. Jay Bartlett. After the meeting a lunch was served. Mrs. August Larson, Jr. will be the hostess for the next gathering of Home Extension Group II, at which time Mrs. Archie Bazinet and Mrs. Jay Kleiber will be leaders.

Leaders' Meeting

In preparation for the coming home extension group meetings, group leaders met at the school on Friday afternoon. Present was home demonstrator, Ingrid Teronen, whose discussion covered the subject "Making Better Use of Storage Space."

Accidents Kill 12 In Michigan

(By The Associated Press)

A freight train struck and killed a 12-year-old boy and critically injured his 10-year-old brother early today as the boys walked on railroad tracks near their Romulus township home.

Seven other persons died in auto accidents, a 12-year old boy was killed by a machine gun bullet and two met death in fires to bring Michigan's weekend accidental death toll to 12.

George Little, 12, was killed instantly when he was thrown under the wheels of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad train 300 yards from the Eureka Road crossing in Romulus township.

His brother Roy, 10, is in critical condition at Wayne County General Hospital where doctors said he is not expected to live. His left leg was severed.

Wayne county deputies said the boys were each carrying a small tree trunk as they walked on the tracks. It is believed the boys stepped off the tracks to let the train pass but the tree branches struck the engine, hurling the boys under the wheels.

igan were at a standstill and affected the walkout were fast snarling trains of other lines.

The Chesapeake & Ohio sent out its Grand Rapids-to-Petoskey train this morning, but other C&O trains between Detroit - Grand Rapids-Chicago were halted because they run over NYC tracks.

C&O spokesmen said a few freight trains were enroute to destinations, but added they probably would be halted at the end of their runs.

Grand Trunk and Pennsylvania railroad trains were running but in some cases were late. The Pennsylvania put on extra sections to carry the overflow from stranded NYC passengers. Airlines and bus companies planned extra runs to help out the travel jam.

Union threats that the walkout may spread to other lines raised the possibility of complete rail paralysis in the state.

Secret Papers Show Soviets Supplying Red Army In Korea

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO — (AP) — How neutral is Russia in the Korean war?

A hitherto secret report in Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's headquarters asserts:

"The main source of supply for present Chinese Communist forces x x x in Korea x x x is from Soviet furnished material."

Although the United Nations Command never has announced the capture of a Russian soldier, practically all of the equipment now in use by the North Korean Army and the Chinese Communist Forces is Russian-made.

Russian Arms Captured

So too is the swift jet interceptor plane, the Mig-15, which patrols northwest Korea from Manchurian bases.

A staff officer at Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's headquarters today made available to the Associated Press a hitherto secret report containing a list of captured guns, vehicles and other war machinery which the Soviets have turned over to the North Korean and Chinese Communist armies.

Red staff officers drafting truce supervision terms nominated Russia as a neutral observer.

"With the exception of a small amount of Japanese material left over from the Japanese occupation of Korea and Manchuria and material captured from U. N. Forces in Korea, the North Korean army has been entirely equipped and, or, re-equipped with Soviet material," the intelligence report said.

Tanks Identified

"Recent reports have shown that the main source of supply for present Chinese Communist forces equipping and, or, re-equipping of units in Korea, or earmarked for Korea, is from Soviet furnished material."

"This Soviet furnished material, for both the NKA and CCF, has included tanks, self-propelled armored artillery, trucks, artillery, AAA guns (anti-aircraft), machineguns and various types of small arms. While some part of this ordnance has been manufactured in North Korea proper, the vast majority has come from either Russia or her satellite countries."

"All of the ordnance material listed herein has been captured and positively identified in Korea during present hostilities."

"In the armored field of Soviet material identified in Korea, there are the BA-64 armored car, the

Besides Chairman Wood and Potter, others conducting the hearings are Reps. Walters (D-Pa) and Jackson (R-Calif.). Walters replays Rep. Moulder (D-Mo), who sat in the first sessions here.

As a result of the first hearings here one public school teacher was suspended, a secretary quit her city job after being ordered to appear before a municipal loyalty board, Wayne University expelled a student, and two Detroit newspapermen lost their jobs after being named as Communists by witnesses listed as "friendly" to the committee.

Wall Street

(By RADAR WNGET)

NEW YORK — (AP) — A sagging stock market was depressed today by the weight of profit-taking in the rails.

Losses ran from fractions to between 1 and 2 points in the carrier section, and elsewhere losses were almost all fractional.

At the same time oils, chemicals, and gold mining issues were ahead. Other major divisions were narrowly mixed.

Amarada, the big Williston Basin producer, was ahead between 3 and 4 points in early trading. Shell Oil, which also operates in that area, was up around a point.

New York Central, crippled by a strike, was down a major fraction. It started on a block of 3,000 shares off 5/8 at 19 3/4.

Santa Fe showed the greatest fall, between 1 and 2 points, after reporting record high gross earnings for last year but a reduced net profit.

Lower were Pennsylvania Railroad, Nickel Plate, Northern Pacific, Sinclair Oil, Westinghouse Electric, Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, and Sears Roebuck.

Higher were Homestake Mining, Monty-Porepine, Air Reduction, Dow Chemical, American Woolen, and Philco Radio.

Corporate bonds were mixed at the opening.

Jack Williams, Kansas City Star: "I think Eisenhower will get a minimum of nine delegates and win the preferential primary by a small margin."

Don Iddon, London Daily Mail: "I think Eisenhower and Truman will win, but it may be a moral victory for Taft. If Taft wins, it will be to some extent a victory for isolationism, but the biggest thing here is that the people don't seem to want to vote for a man they can't see."

Joseph Miller, Philadelphia Inquirer: "The 70,000 to 80,000 Republican votes in this state might determine whether Eisenhower is a formidable candidate or a shadow candidate and whether Taft can maneuver into a position where he could grab the nomination on the first ballot."

St. Joseph School Resumes Senior Class Plays

"Say It With Flowers", to be presented March 29 and 30, will be the first senior class play offered by St. Joseph High School in eight years. The selection is one particularly suited to present day needs and community interest.

Centered about the imminent closing of Mom Tally's Garden Shop, the plot involves several neighborhood affairs and points up the happy results of neighborly kindness and helpfulness. Homey people in an average American town move through the six scenes, weaving a story of mutual loyalty and solidarity. Some of the scenes are flashbacks to earlier events telling Mom's story and providing interesting dramatic situations.

Bearing a 1951 copyright, the play is laid in the immediate present of high rent and the pull of glamor, and will make the audience feel it is participating in a real life situation.

Rehearsals are moving forward the stage crew is busy setting the scene, and the publicity campaign is under way. Pete Kutches and Gertrude Jaeger are at the head of these activities, and Pat Moreau leads the cast as Mom.

Tickets will be on sale two weeks before the performances.

AS WE LIVE Tactful Inquiries Will Help Stop In-Laws-To-Be's Domination

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, Ph. D.

(Q) "My son is to be married to a very nice girl. It seems that her folks want to run their lives completely in the arrangements of the wedding and all. They have picked the church, time, and everything. I feel that we should have had something to say or at least been asked our opinion about this. What do you think?"—Mrs. N. R.

(A) Since the girl's family gives the wedding, in that they pay the bills and make the arrangements, it is customary for them to make the final decisions about all matters relating to the wedding. But, it is considered courteous for them to consult the groom's family and get their opinions before the final decisions are made. Then, if there are differences of opinion, the usual thing is to try to iron them out to the satisfaction of all concerned.

If the problem related only to the wedding itself, I would advise you to forget about it and not be concerned if your future daughter-in-law's parents want to do things their own way. But their possessive attitude is not likely to stop with the wedding.

The chances are that they will try to run the young people's lives later just as they are trying to do now. If your son has any backbone, he will eventually resent their domination. He will feel that he wants to be the head of his own home and not have long-distance control coming from the home of his in-laws.

Naturally you do not want to make things difficult for your son at this time and interfere. But, for the sake of your son's future happiness, I think you would make a mistake to sit back now and let them run the whole show.

Through sincere and genuine interest, you can ask your son's fiancée's parents about the plans they are making and then express your opinions or offer suggestions. If this is done in a kindly, helpful, non-critical manner, they certainly cannot take offense.

It will, however, show them from the start that you are not willing to sit by and allow them to dominate. Furthermore, it may give your son the courage to express his opinions and preferences about matters which, up to now, he felt helpless about questioning.

If you have a personal problem, write Elizabeth Hurlock in care of this newspaper.

Forensic Festivals To Be Held Experimentally In Peninsula This Year

The Manistique High school forensic festival, one of many held experimentally in the Upper Peninsula this year, has been tentatively set for the last week in March, it is announced by Marvin Frederickson, high school dramatics and speech coach.

The forensic festival, Frederickson said, replaces the forensic contest in the Upper Peninsula this year, primarily on an experimental basis. Schools of the Lower Peninsula will continue with the forensic contest program but are expected to adopt the festival plan if it proves successful in the north.

Local festival winners, selected on an individual ability basis rather than competitively, will take part in a district festival. District winners will participate in a two-day regional event to be held at Marquette in May.

The regional festival will include the entire Upper Peninsula.

Nine fields are available for student participation in the festival instead of the four divisions which characterized forensic contests, Frederickson stated. They are extemporaneous speaking, oratory, declamation, dramatic dialogue, dramatic monologue, humorous reading, radio speaking.

poetry reading and prose reading. Each school may have a maximum of 10 entries in not more than five of the fields at a district or the regional festival.

Approximately 40 Manistique high school students have signified their desire of entering the local festival, Frederickson said.

The need of a Cubmaster for the Lincoln Cub Pack was discussed at a regular meeting of Lincoln Parent-Teacher Association last Thursday evening by Andrew Houston, of Escanaba, Red Buck Scout executive.

Mrs. E. H. LeBrasseur, chairman of the City Recreation Commission, was also on the speaking program and explained the proposed Central Park development program. She exhibited blueprints of development plans.

Other business matters included appointment of a nominating committee, donation of $5 to the Red Cross, and a decision to send a delegate to a mental hygiene clinic at Blaney Park in the spring. Mrs. Benjamin Gero's and Miss Helen Alfredson's rooms were tied for room gifts.

Entertainment included a trumpet solo by James Monroe, an accordion solo by Janet Dixoner and a piano number by Jean Carlson.

The lunch committee was composed of Mrs. Richard Abrahamson, chairman; Mrs. George Macfarlane, Mrs. Lyle Patz, Mrs. Oscar Blomquist, Mrs. Sig Anderson and Mrs. Magnus Larson.

The next meeting will be a joint session with Lakeside-Central PTA and the new high school PTA. It will be held April 8, with Esther Middlewood, of Lansing, as the speaker.

Local Woman Passes Sunday In Ferguson Hospital, Newberry

Barbara Venski, 84, of 207 N. Maple Ave., passed away early Sunday at Ferguson Hospital, Newberry, where she had been a patient since last November. Prior to entering the Newberry hospital she had been a patient at the Wendland Convalescent Home here.

She was born in Austro-Hungary, now Yugoslavia, in 1867. Her husband, George Venski, died in 1943. She was a member of St. Francis de Sales Church.

Her only known survivors are three nieces in Pittsburgh, Pa.

The body was taken to the Messier-Broulliere Funeral Home for burial preparations. Funeral arrangements were delayed pending arrival of the nieces.

Briefly Told

Bishop's Committee—The Bishop's committee of St. Alban's Episcopal Church will meet in the rectory Tuesday at 7:30 p. m.

Prayer Circle—The Prayer Circle of the First Methodist Church will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Bundy, 119 Chippewa Ave.

Luther League—The Luther League of Zion Lutheran Church will meet in the church parlors Wednesday evening following the Lenten service.

Damages Truck—A truck driven by Arthur Gray, of Cooks, was damaged in the right rear in an accident at 12:30 a. m. Sunday at Blaney Junction. Gray told local state police he applied his brakes as he approached M-77 from US-2 east. A semi-trailer pulled by the truck jackknifed, damaging the truck. Gray was unhurt.

Body Of Accident Victim Is Removed Sunday To Detroit

The body of Mrs. Hazel Johnson, killed in an auto accident Friday evening, was removed to the A. J. Santes Funeral Home in Detroit yesterday. Burial preparations were made by the Messier-Broulliere Funeral Home.

Mrs. Johnson is survived by her husband, Lauri; three children; and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Hahn, of Romulus.

Her father, injured in the accident which claimed Mrs. Johnson's life, was still a patient at the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital yesterday.

Foreign Students Set Registration Record

NEW YORK—(AP)—Columbia University has broken all existing records for foreign student registrations. This year 1952 students from 83 countries are taking courses. This is believed to be the highest of any university in the U. S. in 1951-52.

The largest group of foreign students comes from Asia with 675 students from 29 countries. Europe is next with 416 students from 30 countries, followed by the Western Hemisphere with 395 students from 24 countries. Africa is represented by 59 students, Australia and New Zealand by 14.

250 At Girl Scout Rally On Saturday

By MRS. VILAS YOUNG

Over 250 parents, friends, Brownies, Intermediates, Senior Service and Adult Scouters were in attendance at the rally held Saturday afternoon in the Lincoln school gymnasium.

Mrs. L. E. Wilson, local Girl Scout commissioner, opened the program with words of welcome and remarks about the Girl Scout organization. She also introduced the members of the newly organized Brownie Troop 16 at Lincoln school under the leadership of Mrs. John Hanson.

The flag ceremony followed, presented by four Scouts from Mrs. Omer Dybek's troop and included the pledge and the Star Spangled Banner.

The presentation of the Curved Bar award and the First Class badge was made by Mrs. Richard Wilke to Sally Stoor and Katherine Hall, members of Mrs. Wilke's troop. Sally also received my community and home nurse badges and Katherine was given journalist, campcraft and out-door cook awards.

Mrs. Helen Lanier and Mrs. Charles Atwater, in charge of the third grade Brownie Troop at Lakeside, presented their girls in the History of Girl Scouting and Brownies. The girls were in trefoil formation and in conclusion led off in the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund March.

Fund Collected—"Our Chalet," in miniature, was the bank in which the girls placed their pennies in the march. Linda Hamill and Lois Kay Norton, members of the Lincoln Intermediate troop, explained where and how the money collected in this memorial fund is used.

"Girl Scouts Are We," an original play in three scenes, was presented by Intermediate Scouts of Central School. The play, written by Marianne Kelly, was a take-off of a regular troop meeting. Mrs. Scott Creighton and Mrs. H. Moders are the troop leaders.

"The Three Little Girls," a dramatization, was presented by the second grade Brownies at Central School under the direction of their leader, Mrs. John Sherer.

Styles from 1900 on, including original wedding gowns and also Girl Scout uniforms, was presented by Mrs. O. F. Smith's Intermediate troop. Facts regarding each costume were given by Mrs. Smith, and Katherine Hall provided the music.

Bow Belinda, an American Folk dance, was given by the Intermediate Girl Scouts under the leadership of Mrs. Omer Dybek.

Brownie Story Told—Mrs. Earl LeBrasseur read "The Brownie Story" while members of her second grade troop at Lakeside acted out the parts.

A Swedish Folk dance, "Gusta's Toast," followed with the fourth grade Brownies at Lakeside, in costume, dancing and singing. Leaders of this troop are Mrs. T. H. Reque, Mrs. Durward LaVance and Mrs. Edward LaVance.

"Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" was dramatized by the seventh grade Intermediate Scouts. Miss Florence Hulett is the troop leader.

The second grade Brownies at Lincoln played a singing game, "Four In A Boat". The girls were dressed in long old-fashioned dresses and bonnets. Mrs. John Barr is in charge of this troop, and Carol Swanson accompanied the girls.

"The Ugly Queen", a narrative, was dramatized by the eighth grade Intermediate Scouts under the leadership of Mrs. Richard Wilke.

Mrs. Stephen Johnson's third grade Brownie of Central School sang three action songs.

The third grade Brownies at Lincoln school in Swedish folk dance costume presented "Weaving Cloth". Carol Swanson was the accompanist. Mrs. Vilas Young is troop leader.

Timber Trail Songs—The Lincoln Intermediate, under the leadership of Miss Irene Karasti and Miss Helen Alfredson, sang, "Girl Scouts Together".

"A Trip Through Many Lands" was presented by the fourth grade Brownies of Central School under the leadership of Mrs. Alan Walter. This number included songs and dances from other countries and costumes for each.

The Senior Service Scouts, whose leaders are Mrs. Gene Johnson and Mrs. E. J. Thompson, sang Timber Trail songs in camp costumes of jeans and shirts. They also taught an action song to all present, with Margaret Quick as leader.

The program closed with the showing of the color film, "Hands Across the Sea," after which ice cream bars were served to all.

Junior Leader School Stated

Four junior 4-H club leaders from Schoolcraft and Alger Counties will attend an Upper Peninsula Junior Leadership School at Marquette on March 17, 18 and 19, it is announced by Allan J. Norden, district club agent.

Each county of the peninsula will send two delegates to the school. The four from this district who will attend the session are: Schoolcraft—June Wilson, Cooks, and Henry Ketola, Seney; Alger—Clyde Johnson and Eleanor Manista, Chatham.

The school will open March 17 with registration at noon and luncheon following at 12:30 p. m. at the cafeteria of Northern Michigan College of Education. Various programs will be held at Lee and Carey Hall of the college.

Girls will be housed in the college dormitory and the boys at Hotel Clifton.

Delegates from Alger and Schoolcraft counties will have an important part in the program on the second evening of the school when they demonstrate an appropriate candle lighting ceremony for installation of new

Eskymos Edge Menominee 38-37 On Torrid Fourth Period Rally

MENOMINEE—An Escanaba basketball team that didn't know the meaning of the word "quit" rose from seemingly certain defeat here Saturday night and tripped the host Menominee Maroons 38-37 for the district Class B tournament championship.

Coach Steve Baltic's Eskymos got up off the floor to kavo the favored Maroons in a story-book fourth quarter finish after trailing by nine points, 34-25, at the end of a near-disastrous third period.

In that nerve-shattering fourth quarter drive the Eskymos held Menominee to a single point, a free throw by Dick Hoebeckx, until two seconds before the final whistle when Wayne Ewald flipped in a desperation field goal that had no bearing on the outcome of the game.

Eskymos Make Bid

The huge crowd sat stunned as the Eskymos made their furious bid for victory in the final frame. Menominee's 34-25 lead was shaved to 34-30 on two field goals by Jim Heiden and a gift toss by Paul Baldwin. With four and a half minutes left the Maroons got their lone free throw to make it 35-30.

Reserve guard JoJo Johnston hit a pair of free throws and tossed in a bucket to pull Escanaba up to within one point, 35-34, at the 3:15 mark. Heiden rang the bell with a set shot and the Maroons found themselves behind 36-35.

Forward Tom Smith wrote the game in the record book with a minute remaining on the time clock by driving straight up the free throw lane and slipping in a layup to make it 38-35. Ewald's shot from deep in the corner narrowed the gap to the final count of 38-37, but the gun went off as Escanaba took the ball out of bounds.

First Since 1946

For Coach Baltic it was the first district championship since he took over the basketball reins at Escanaba in the fall of 1949. And it was Escanaba's first district crown since the 1945-46 season when the Eskymos went on to capture the Upper Peninsula Class B title.

It was tight all the way Saturday night as both teams were tense and over-anxious. The Maroons pulled out to a 6-0 lead before Escanaba found the basket. The score was knotted 6-6 midway in the first period and Escanaba enjoyed a brief four-point lead at 10-6 and 12-8 before the Maroons spurred to hold a quarter-time 15-12 edge.

The Eskymos came right back in the second period and led 17-15 midway in the frame. Menominee took a 21-19 margin but a free throw by Baldwin and a late field goal by Smith gave Escanaba a 22-21 halftime advantage.

The roar came in on the Eskymos in the third quarter, however. Smith caged a free throw but the Maroons marched to a 29-23 lead with forward John Moerchen racking up three quick field goals. Moerchen added a brace of field goals and Bruemmer a free throw as Escanaba missed shot after shot from the floor. The period ended with Menominee holdings its apparently comfortable nine-point spread.

Fouls Hurt
Fouls began hurting both teams in the third period. Escanaba's Fred Boddy drew his fourth at 5:20 and Bob Neilson and Dick Bero each added No. 4.

The final period was only one minute old when Bero's fifth foul was called. Boddy followed him to the showers two minutes later and Moerchen went out at the four minute mark.

The one-point margin of victory was the second for the Eskymos in the district tourney. Escanaba edged Stephenson 33-32 Friday night. The win over Menominee also reversed the two regular season losses to the Maroons.

In the final analysis it was a free throw edge that gave Escanaba the win. Both teams hit 14 field goals but Escanaba made 10 of 23 gift tosses while Menominee converted nine of 23. The fouls were almost even, 21 on Escanaba and 20 on Menominee.

Hawks Drop Tough 5-4 Verdict To Portage Lake In Northern Michigan Hockey Playoff Tilt

HOUGHTON—(Special)—Escanaba's fighting Hawks further won the respect of Copper Country hockey fans by holding the powerful Portage Lake Pioneers, defending champion of the Northern Michigan league, to a 5-4 decision in the sawoff game of the best-of-three semifinal championship series here yesterday afternoon. A crowd of 2,098 saw the game.

Previously, the Pioneers had nipped the Escanabans in the overtime on Houghton ice, 6-4, and Escanaba had evened the series with a 6-3 triumph on Escanaba ice.

Thus the series ended with each team scoring 14 goals, one of Portage Lake's having been scored while the Hawks had pulled Ben Artwich and were playing six men up in the last half minute of play in the overtime. Had the series been played on a total-goal basis, Escanaba would have been in the finals at the end of the second game with a 10-7 margin since the opener would have gone in the books as a 4-4 tie.

Splendid Showing

Escanaba's splendid showing in the semifinals represented a tremendous surge that almost moved the Hawks into the best-of-five championship finals series against Marquette, a two-straight winner over Calumet.

Marquette will play at Portage Lake Tuesday night and Portage will play at Marquette Thursday in the two opening games of the three-out-of-five series. Johnny Whittaker, of Calumet, former Northern Michigan star player, will officiate the series with two neutral linesmen from Calumet and Escanaba officiating.

Although it didn't quite go into the overtime, yesterday's loss was a heartbreaker on a par with the Wednesday night loss.

Portage Lake led 1-0 after the first and 4-2 after the second period, and Escanaba outscored the Pioneers two to one in the finale, but it wasn't quite enough to send ed by the Perkins quint of Coach Tom Gerovac. The Arrows built up a 19-7 lead at the first quarter's end and spread it to 43-18 at halftime. Perkins was outscored in both of the final two periods.

Ishpeming Tops Negaunee 41-34

NEGAUNEE—(Special)—With guard Bob Sharland setting a hot third-quarter pace the Ishpeming Hematites downed Negaunee here Saturday night, 41-34, for Class B district honors.

Sharland hit 12 points, high for the night, as Ishpeming rallied from a 19-10 deficit at halftime.

National Mine edged Michigamme 48-46 for the E crown in the second game. A capacity crowd of 3,300 spectators filled the huge new gym.

Junior Hawks Beat Wells 6-5 For Delta County Loop Crown

A goal by Eddie Provo on a pass from Jim Bolm with 50 seconds remaining in the game gave the Escanaba Junior Hawks a 6-5 victory over the Wells Red Wings and the championship in the Delta County Junior Hockey League playoffs Saturday morning.

The Red Wings had a 1-0 edge at the end of the first period on a marker by Richard Delvo at the five-minute mark. They retained the edge by leading 4-3 at the end of the second period. The Hawks clicked for three goals in the final frame while holding Wells to one goal.

In the second period Hawk scores were registered by Bill Rodman, Gerald Hansen and Bob Rodman, as assists by Jim Bolm and Pat Coyne.

Wells scorers in the second period were Boots Boucher, Richard Delvo and Hugh Ray, with the latter getting an assist on Boucher's score.

Jim Bolm scored for the Hawks at 4:04 in the final period but Arnie Brietzman clicked the marker for Wells at 6:10. Bill Rodman took a pass from Bob Rodman and tied it up at 12:15. Provo's winning goal came at 19:10. Three penalties were dishied out in the game, all on Wells players. John Krill was in the box twice for tripping and Harlan Brietzman was in once for the same reason.

Saturday night the Hawks traveled to Newberry to post a 13-3 win over the Indians. The win gave the Hawks an over-all record of 14 victories against two losses this season.

Trojans Defeat Norway 65-61 In Final Seconds For C Title

NORWAY—(Special)—A narrow, low-beamed gymnasium and a fighting Norway quint extended the St. Joe Trojans to the final seconds of the district Class C championship game here Saturday night before Coach Tom St. Germain's terrific Trojans pulled a 65-61 victory out of the fire.

St. Joe won its second straight district crown (the Trojans lost to Soo Loretto in the U. P. finals last year) when Bob Sendenburgh, junior guard, broke a Trojan final-minute stall and lobbed in a field goal from the edge of the free throw circle with 14 seconds remaining.

Following that shot which put St. Joe ahead 63-61 the Vikes took the ball out of bounds. Guard John Martineau intercepted the throw-in at mid-court, passed to Bill Baker who whipped the ball to Pete Kutches under the basket for another goal.

Baker Comes Through
It was Baker who pulled St. Joe out of a dangerous hole in the final quarter. With a minute and a half remaining, Baker made his third straight field goal, a one-hand push, to tie the score at 61-61.

Kutches, St. Joe's all-state center, sustained a painful head cut with a minute remaining in the game. Driving in for a layup, Kutches faked a shot which sent Norway's Donald Griffith up in the air. As Griffith came down Kutches went up for his shot and the Norway guard's chin crashed into Kutches' head, opening up a one-inch gash in the scalp.

The game was held up while first aid was administered and then Kutches missed his free throw attempt. The Trojans declined the second free throw to take the ball out of bounds with the score 61-61.

St. Joe stalled until Sendenburgh popped in his set shot which provided a two-point edge.

Kutches Boosts Total
Kutches, hampered by the narrow confines of the gym, was held to 22 points. His 26 points in the tourney opener gave him a total of 48 points in the meet here and boosted his season total to 521 for the season, only 46 points short of the all-time Upper Peninsula individual scoring record of 567 points scored by Norbert Puro of Ironwood St. Ambrose in 20 games this season. The Trojans have played 18 games thus far this season.

A full house greeted the title contenders here Saturday night, and nearly half of the spectators were rooting for the Trojans. Coach Allan Ronberg's Vikings caught fire off the bat and took a 17-14 first quarter lead with four

Burke Wins Fourth Golf Tournament

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—(P)—Golf's winter wonderer Jack Burke, looked forward eagerly to new conquests today after running his tournament winning streak to four in a row.

The young Texan captured the $10,000 St. Petersburg open yesterday with a record-shattering 266 and picked up his $2,000 first prize with the air of a fellow who intends to go on winning tournaments indefinitely.

CAPTAIN DON ST. JOHN, of the Manistique Emeralds, receives the district Class B tournament trophy following the championship game in the high school gym Saturday night, March 8. Oilboat Olga Says Shipping Business Not Only For Men

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Beautiful Olga "Oilboat Olga" Konow, the New Yorker who had to tell a Senate committee about her surprisingly lucrative business, really became a ship-owner and broker because her handsome Norwegian husband, Magnus Konow, used to say, "shipping is for men, Olga."

"Dis cannot be so," said she to herself in a Marlene Dietrich voice which comes natural. Mrs. Konow was born in old Austria-Hungary, in Sevvus, which is now in Czechoslovakia.

Joy to Press Box
She was a distinct strain on Senatorial dignity, and a joy to the press box, as she told a Senate committee how she made half a million dollars in a sale of surplus U. S. tankers to a company heavily financed by wealthy Chinese.

The committee is investigating several tanker deals which made tremendous profits for a star-studded list, including former Congressman Joseph E. Casey now a Washington lawyer.

Mrs. Konow is tall, with big green eyes, and a halo of silvery hair, but nary a line in her soft, round face.

She Feels Honored
"Dis is so surprising the Senate want to hear from me," she said. "My husband and I think it such an honor. I may be the only woman ship-owner today. But I am such a little one. You say that, please. The men know."

"So I get on the plane. And half way I think maybe I should have a lawyer. So I turn to the man next to me, and he say, 'I take you to my friend.' So we take a taxi from the airport and we see dis nice, young Mr. Kelly." (Roy Kelly, a Washington lawyer.)

"He was so busy," she continues. "He wants to read through all that transcript. I say, 'No, no. Just find out where I fit in, and how I can help the Senate.' So he find out."

Butterflies in Tummy
Then the zero hour. She says, "It is not easy, you know. I have fine butterflies in my tummy. But those Senators are so handsome, and they are so-o well-dressed, I sat down. But those lights. Those cameras. Can you believe it? I nevaire saw a real movie camera before."

"I have tell Kelly I just tell the truth."
She said her interest in the shipping business is just profit. She has little or no interest in international complications.

"I am not interested in from where the money comes," she smiled brightly at the Senators. "But it interests me when it is coming." She put one of those Dietrich draws on "when."

It comes, and amazingly. She decided to stop being just a housewife in 1944, when she "coo-ook, very goo-ood, and wash out the little nylons."

Swings First Loan
Her husband—successful shipping man, and an international yachtsman who holds two Olympic gold medals for his yachting—didn't take her seriously. But

W. S. C. S. Meeting

McMILLAN—Mrs. Albert J. Mainville was hostess to the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church at her home Wednesday evening with Mrs. Frank Kirby, president, presiding at the business session.

The Rev. Wipp, Newberry, pastor of the McMillan-Grand Marais circuit, led the devotions.

Discussion of redecorating the church was held during the business session. Refreshments were served during the social hour.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George Taylor with Miss Oliver Mark, hostess, Wednesday evening, March 19.

Community Party

The Community Card club met Tuesday evening in Columbus Township hall with Mrs. Harry Skinner and Mrs. Wilmer Harkness, hostess. Four tables of cribbage were in play. High scores were held by John Armstrong and Mrs. Albert Mainville. Henry Mainville and Mrs. John Armstrong had low scores. Refreshments were served after cards. Mrs. Mainville and Mrs. Frank Kirby will be hostesses at the next club party Tuesday evening, March 10.

Persons
Mrs. Walter Schwartz, and daughter Sandra arrived Tuesday from Saginaw to spend several days at the home of the former's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ace Atherton. Mrs. Schwartz was called here by the serious illness of her brother.

Jane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kirby and Jimmy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Uhlbeck who have been patients at Tahquamenon General hospital, Newberry, have been discharged. Jane had an appendix operation March 1 and Jimmy received treatment for a severe cold.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Mainville have received word that their son Gerald who recently was inducted into military service, is stationed with the Medical Corps at Camp Pickett, Va.

Doesn't Want To Brag
Her tankers travel the seven seas. But when they put into a nearby port Mrs. Konow hurries to have lunch with the crew. She has never had trouble with her crews.

She left Washington for Palm Beach, to join her husband, her son, and her daughter. Magnus Jr. is three years old. She is taking him boxing gloves, size six.

"Oh, well," she says, "he will be six. Then they will fit. Oh, please. Remember to say mine is a little shipping company. The men know. They must not think I brag."

More Protection for More People
Report to Metropolitan Policyholders for 1951

THE importance of Life insurance and its relationship to the lives of the people of the United States and Canada cannot effectively be portrayed by figures in a balance sheet. Cold figures can never adequately show human needs and their fulfillment. It is important, therefore, to try to interpret these figures in terms of the millions of people they represent and the millions who benefit by the use of the services rendered by the Company and its Agents. The Metropolitan was serving 33,373,000 Life insurance policyholders at the close of the year.

The personal phases of Life insurance—for it is a highly personal business—are highlighted daily by dramatic instances. Sometimes they are so unusual as to give special emphasis to the part our business plays in the life of the United States and Canada. The following quotation from a letter from the son of a deceased policyholder, requesting the return of a policy on which claim had been paid, tells with simple sincerity a moving story of a Life insurance policy, of the son's relationship with his father, and of a sound process of economic and social education:

"This policy . . . has for me possibly a greater sentimental value than it would have cash value . . . For you to understand this, you would have to know the years of close relationship and confidence that existed between my father and me. When I was a small boy, he would take me with him to his safety deposit vault . . . Always he stressed to me the importance of his insurance policy, how this piece of paper would some day have a cash value that might tide the family over in an emergency . . . Time has passed . . . but the sentimental worth of this piece of paper is constant in my thinking . . . I have always been told that business, especially Big Business, is hard and cold and rigid, but I know that this is not so, because business is made up of people. People with hearts and souls and loved ones, and people who have lost loved ones, and some who possibly think and feel the same way that I do."

We were, of course, pleased to grant this unusual request.

The record sum of $924,000,000 was paid in benefits to policyholders and beneficiaries during 1951. This included payments of $141,000,000 on more than 1,250,000 claims (five times ten years ago) for Accident and Health and Disability benefits. A new high was also reached in Life insurance in force—$48,512,000,000, a gain of more than $3,000,000,000 over 1950.

More people than ever were protected last year by Metropolitan Accident and Health insurance. As the year closed, the Company had in force 3,270,000 policies or certificates providing weekly indemnity for disability of $86,000,000 per week. Hospital, Surgical or Medical Expense benefits were provided by 2,744,000 policies or certificates.

Another significant development during the year was the introduction of Extended Medical Coverage through Group insurance to protect people against abnormal hospital, surgical, and medical expense that might exhaust a family's entire savings.
